Arnone was a late addition to the HFX wanderers for the 2019 season but he made an immediate impact that resulted in him being their top defender throughout the entirety of the season. He's now become a top 5 player at his position in the league with an InStat rating of 226. All this while playing with a team that struggled throughout the season to score goals.

The only area where he falls below league average is in pass completion at 82%. This is surprising when you watch footage of him as he is very good on the ball and has very good decision making under pressure. It begins to make more sense when you consider HFX isn't a team with the personnel to build out of the back and often looked to beat teams on the counterattack rather than play positional attacking football.

At the end of the 2019 season Matthew was selected as the player of the year by HFX Wanderers Supporters.
